

GO! – Girls only

11/2015 – 10/2018

Initiator

verein freiraum

Objectives

The aim of this project, realised by verein freiraum in cooperation with INPUT Integratives Netzwerk für Pädagogik und Tanz, is to support girls from a migrant background or from socially disadvantaged families in

- recognising and expressing their individual health needs and
- actively and self-confidently changing their health behaviour.

In addition to girls-specific offers (e.g. girls club, open learning group) the project provides training and accompanying support of peer-helpers. The training's aim is to empower girls in passing on information on selected health topics (e.g. domestic violence, self-assertion, self-confidence) to their peers.

In the course of the project, parental education as well as activities for promoting the intercultural dialogue and the exchange with the media will be realised.

Implementation of the evaluation

The evaluators' focus is on the process (process evaluation) as well as on the results and outcomes of the project (summative evaluation).

queraum. cultural and social research supports the project team in reflecting every single project step, in collecting lessons learned and in the controlling of target achievement.

In addition to the participating girls, mentors and parents are important target groups of the evaluation. queraum developed a range of qualitative, lowthreshold and interactive methods in order to systematically collect the target groups' experiences in an attractive and inspiring way.

queraum supports the project team in summarizing and publishing lessons learned in a collection of experience.
